Jan Lubin and Frank Palacat
What will you do today?

• Define Integrated Planning.
• Discuss the How’s and Why’s of Integrated Planning.
• Use the How’s and Why’s to integrate a project into a College plan.
• Ask lots of questions and participate.
What is Integrated Planning?

- Integrated planning “is an interactive process in which an institution, through its governance processes, thoughtfully uses its values and vision to set priorities and deploy its resources and energies to achieve institutional changes and improvements at various levels of the organization in response to current or anticipated conditions.” (ACCJC News Fall 2009)
What Integrated Planning will do

(1) Provide focus to set clear, reasonable goals and directions
(2) Describe who you are through alignment with your mission, vision, and core values
(3) Inform where you are going through providing evidence to inform governance decision-making
(4) Explain how you are going to get there through careful analysis, reflection, and creation of action plans relevant to your goals, direction, and mission
The Society for College and University Planning (SCUP) provides four key questions that colleges and universities can use to drive planning for continuous quality improvement.

H1: Whom do you wish to Serve

H2: How will you know you are Succeeding?

H3: How do you want to be Perceived?

H4: What programs and services will reinforce your distinctive image?

Society for College and University Planning (2014)
"A quality college aims for excellence in all that it does, across five dimensions of quality that are reflected in the requirements of all seven regional accreditors..."

Attain Student-Achievement Parity
(Native Hawaiians compared to other Groups)

Native Hawaiian students comprise up to 40% of the student body at WCC. Despite this, their achievement lags behind other groups.

Is this possible QFP for WCC be integrated into WCC’s plan?
